

King David High School, Manchester and Alyn Orthopaedic Hospital, Jerusalem

Alyn Orthopedic Hospital in Jerusalem specializes in the treatment and rehabilitation of children and young people born with bone deformities or who have sustained injuries due to an accident or act of terror. It provides long term care and day clinics as well as specialist therapies such as Animal Therapy.

King David High School in Manchester chose to support Alyn through Jewish Child's Day on an ongoing basis. Pupils have made successful and fulfilling trips to this hospital to see firsthand the vital work that they do and to find out how their fundraising has helped.

During their visit students attended presentations by doctors and animal therapists. They were able to meet some of the children having therapy, present a cheque for the money they raised and even handle some of the animals themselves!
